If your child is involved in sports, the athletic department at his or her school will insist on a physical exam prior to allowing him or her to set foot on a gym floor or sports field.

The aim of a sports physical is to ensure the health and safety of your child while he or she is training and competing in a sport. During the physical our physicians look for medical conditions that may predispose a child to injury or illness during competition.

Our sports physicals are performed by board certified physicians or nurse practitioners.
